FBI FOIPA Addendum

As referenced in our letter responding to your Freedom of Information/Privacy Acts (FOIPA) request, the FBI FOIPA Addendum provides information applicable to your request. Part 1 of the Addendum includes standard responses that apply to all requests. Part 2 includes standard responses that apply to requests for records about individuals to the extent your request seeks the listed information. Part 3 includes general information about FBI records, searches, and programs.

Part 1: The standard responses below apply to all requests:

- (i) 5 U.S.C. § 552(c). Congress excluded three categories of law enforcement and national security records from the requirements of the FOIPA [5 U.S.C. § 552(c)]. FBI responses are limited to those records subject to the requirements of the FOIPA. Additional information about the FBI and the FOIPA can be found on the www.fbi.gov/foia website.
- (ii) Intelligence Records. To the extent your request seeks records of intelligence sources, methods, or activities, the FBI can neither confirm nor deny the existence of records pursuant to FOIA exemptions (b)(1), (b)(3), and as applicable to requests for records about individuals, PA exemption (j)(2) [5 U.S.C. §§ 552/552a (b)(1), (b)(3), and (j)(2)]. The mere acknowledgment of the existence or nonexistence of such records is itself a classified fact protected by FOIA exemption (b)(1) and/or would reveal intelligence sources, methods, or activities protected by exemption (b)(3) [50 USC § 3024(i)(1)]. This is a standard response and should not be read to indicate that any such records do or do not exist.

Part 2: The standard responses below apply to all requests for records on individuals:

- (i) Requests for Records about any Individual—Watch Lists. The FBI can neither confirm nor deny the existence of any individual's name on a watch list pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(7)(E) and PA exemption (j)(2) [5 U.S.C. §§ 552/552a (b)(7)(E), (j)(2)]. This is a standard response and should not be read to indicate that watch list records do or do not exist.
- (ii) Requests for Records about any Individual—Witness Security Program Records. The FBI can neither confirm nor deny the existence of records which could identify any participant in the Witness Security Program pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(3) and PA exemption (j)(2) [5 U.S.C. §§ 552/552a (b)(3), 18 U.S.C. 3521, and (j)(2)]. This is a standard response and should not be read to indicate that such records do or do not exist.
- (iii) Requests for Confidential Informant Records. The FBI can neither confirm nor deny the existence of confidential informant records pursuant to FOIA exemptions (b)(7)(D), (b)(7)(E), and (b)(7)(F) [5 U.S.C. §§ 552 (b)(7)(D), (b)(7)(E), and (b)(7)(F)] and Privacy Act exemption (j)(2) [5 U.S.C. § 552a (j)(2)]. The mere acknowledgment of the existence or nonexistence of such records would reveal confidential informant identities and information, expose law enforcement techniques, and endanger the life or physical safety of individuals. This is a standard response and should not be read to indicate that such records do or do not exist.

Part 3: General Information:

- (i) Record Searches and Standard Search Policy. The Record/Information Dissemination Section (RIDS) searches for reasonably described records by searching systems, such as the Central Records System (CRS), or locations where responsive records would reasonably be found. The CRS is an extensive system of records consisting of applicant, investigative, intelligence, personnel, administrative, and general files compiled by the FBI per its law enforcement, intelligence, and administrative functions. The CRS spans the entire FBI organization, comprising records of FBI Headquarters, FBI Field Offices, and FBI Legal Attaché Offices (Legats) worldwide; Electronic Surveillance (ELSUR) records are included in the CRS. The standard search policy is a search for main entity records in the CRS. Unless specifically requested, a standard search does not include a search for reference entity records, administrative records of previous FOIPA requests, or civil litigation files.
  - a. Main Entity Records – created for individuals or non-individuals who are the subjects or the focus of an investigation
  - b. Reference Entity Records- created for individuals or non-individuals who are associated with a case but are not known subjects or the focus of an investigation
- (ii) FBI Records. Founded in 1908, the FBI carries out a dual law enforcement and national security mission. As part of this dual mission, the FBI creates and maintains records on various subjects; however, the FBI does not maintain records on every person, subject, or entity.
- (iii) Foreseeable Harm Standard. As amended in 2016, the Freedom of Information Act provides that a federal agency may withhold responsive records only if: (1) the agency reasonably foresees that disclosure would harm an interest protected by one of the nine exemptions that FOIA enumerates, or (2) disclosure is prohibited by law (5 United States Code, Section 552(a)(8)(A)(i)). The FBI considers this foreseeable harm standard in the processing of its requests.
- (iv) Requests for Criminal History Records or Rap Sheets. The Criminal Justice Information Services (CJIS) Division provides Identity History Summary Checks – often referred to as a criminal history record or rap sheet. These criminal history records are not the same as material in an investigative “FBI file.” An Identity History Summary Check is a listing of information taken from fingerprint cards and documents submitted to the FBI in connection with arrests, federal employment, naturalization, or military service. For a fee, individuals can request a copy of their Identity History Summary Check. Forms and directions can be accessed at www.fbi.gov/about-us/cjis/identity-history-summary-checks. Additionally, requests can be submitted electronically at www.edo.cjis.gov. For additional information, please contact CJIS directly at (304) 625-5590.

is rather high strung and Calvinistic. Other sources, well informed, lay less stress on the danger of the communistic movement in Paulo. They agree, however, that the communists are making propaganda - in part in cooperation with the Nazis - and are a danger. I am forwarding the memorandum primarily because of the mention it makes of various foreign language newspapers and [redacted] comments thereon.

TRANSLATED FROM THE PORTUGUESE

MANIFESTO OF THE NATIONAL COMMITTEE OF FREE GERMANS IN MOSCOW

Germans! Events demand of us an immediate solution!

The National Committee of Free Germans was organized at a time when mortal danger endangers our country and threatens its very existence. The National Committee is composed of workers and writers, soldiers and officials, members of trade unions and political figures, persons of different political points of view and conviction who would have found this unification impossible a year ago - (Among them are: Erich Weinert, anti-Nazi poet (President); Major Karl Hetz (1st Vice President); Lieutenant Count Heinrich von Einsiedel, great-grandson of Bismarck (2nd Vice President); Wilhelm Pieck, former leader of the Communist bloc of the Reichstag, and 29 others of lesser importance.)

The National Committee has the right and the duty, in this hour, to speak in favor of the German people, to speak clearly and firmly, as the gravity of the moment requires.

Look and see what is happening on the battle fronts. The defeats of the last seven months are unequalled in the history of Germany - Stalingrad, the Don, the Caucasus, Libya and Tunisia.

All the responsibility for these defeats rests with Hitler. No foreign enemy has ever cast us into such an abyss of disasters as Hitler has. The facts show implacably that the war is lost. Germany can prolong the war for some time at the price of sacrifices and privations never before seen. The continuation of a hopeless war, however, will be equivalent to the destruction of the country.

But Germany must not die! To be or not to be - this is the question before our country. If the German people, resigned, continue submissively to allow themselves to be swept to their downfall, not only will their strength be undermined and lessened by each day of war, but also their guilt will be greater. Hitler can then be defeated only by the force of the united armies. But this will mean the end of our national independence and of our existence as a state, the dismemberment of our mother country, and we will have only ourselves to blame.

If the German people, before it is too late, are courageous enough and actually prove that they wish to be free, and are determined to rid Germany of Hitler, then they will have the right to decide their own destiny, and the other nations will take them into consideration. This is the only means of saving the existence, liberty and honor of the German nation.

The German people need and want peace. But nobody expects peace with Hitler. Nobody will negotiate with him in this regard.

Consequently, the formation of a genuine national German government is the most important task of our people. This government alone would have the confidence of the people and of our principal enemies. Only this government would bring peace.

COPIES 2

ENCLOSURE

10-22-57 D 4

This government must be strong and possess the necessary strength to render the enemies of the people harmless - Hitler, his henchmen and satellites. It must resolutely put an end to terror and corruption, establish order and reveal a worthy Germany to the outside world.

This government will be established only as a result of the struggle for liberty by all classes of the German people. Its basis will be the fighting groups which will unite to overthrow Hitler. There are forces in the army which have remained loyal to the country, and the people have to play a decisive role.

This government will halt military operations immediately, call German troops back to the boundaries of the Reich, and undertake peace negotiations, renouncing all conquests.

In this manner, it will secure peace, and place Germany once more on an equal footing with the other nations.

Only such a government will be capable of giving the German people the opportunity of manifesting their desires, under peaceful conditions, for the true solution of the question of a form of government.

This means a strong democratic power which will have nothing in common with the weak Weimar regime; a democracy that will be implacable, ruthlessly suppressing any attack on the rights of a free people or against the peace of Europe. It means repealing all laws based on national and racial hatreds, and all aspects of the Hitler regime which are distasteful to our people; the repeal of all measures adopted by the authorities of Hitlerism against liberty and human dignity.

It means the restoration and extension of the political rights and social advantages of the working people; freedom of speech, of the press, of meeting publicly, of conscience and religious faith. It means freedom of economy, commerce and work, the guarantee of the right to work and to property acquired legally.

It means the restoration of the property stolen by the fascist government to its legal owners; the confiscation of the property of those responsible for the war and of those who profited by the war; the exchange of merchandise with other countries as a natural basis for assuring prosperity.

It means immediately freeing the victims of the Hitlerian terror and material compensation for damages wrought.

It means the just and implacable judgment of those who were responsible for the war, their instigators and hidden accomplices, in short, those who brought Germany to the abyss and covered her with shame. However, at the same time, it means pardon for all those who formerly adhered to Hitler but now abjure him to unite with the movement for a free Germany.

Forward, Germans! In the struggle for a free Germany, we know that sacrifices are inevitable. However, the more determined the struggle against Hitler is, the less these sacrifices will be. The sacrifices made for the salvation of Germany will be a thousand times less than the senseless sacrifices caused by continuing the war. German soldiers and officers on all fronts, you have weapons in your hands! Use them! Under the leadership of those who recognize their responsibility and are with you against Hitler, clear the road which leads your country to peace. Workers, men and women! You are in the majority! Multiply your forces by organizing! Form combat groups in the factories, in the cities, in the fields, in the universities and wherever possible. Refuse to obey Hitler. Do not allow yourselves to be accomplices in the continuation of the war. Fight in every way possible according to your position in the state and in the economic life. Our history sets a great example for us. One hundred and thirty years ago, when German troops were also on Russian soil as enemies, it was precisely from Russia that the best sons of Germany - Stein, Arndt, Clausewitz, Yorck and others - appealed to the conscience of the German people against the treacherous German leaders and united the Germans for the war of liberation. Just as they did, we shall devote all our strength and if necessary our lives to lead our people in the fight for liberty and to hasten Hitler's downfall. The fight for a free Germany requires courage, energy and determination. Courage above all. Time will not wait. It is necessary to act and act immediately... For the people and for the Mother Country! Against Hitler and his criminal war! For an immediate peace! For the salvation of the German people! For a free and independent Germany!
